

Coach Profile

Roberta Hill

Nationality: Canadian, British

Residence: Geneva since September 2005

Languages: English

Areas of expertise:

- Executive & leadership coaching
- Assessments
- Strategic planning
- Team building
- Large scale change

Corporate and Management Experience

Roberta works as a professional leadership consultant and coach to both public and private sectors on issues surrounding change and transition. She has been working in the area of Human Resources and Organization Development since 1978. In addition, she has diverse industry experience including line management in telecommunications and financial institutions. Roberta continues to work on the leading edge of leadership, management assessment and team building and speaks regularly on these subjects.

Academic Qualifications

Masters of Business Administration, Ivy School of Business
Bachelor of Arts, Sociology, Carleton University
Teaching Certificate, McGill University

Coaching Education and Certification

Master Certified Coach (ICF)
Certified Corporate Coach (Coach Inc.)

Coaching Approach

Roberta encourages a systemic approach to the complex issues facing all of us today. With an irreverent and light approach that is both disarming and insightful, she is able to help others reframe their perspectives. Her probing questions force clients to reflect on both personal and organizational values and priorities. Roberta supports independent thinking that stretches and challenges others to define their own personal success criteria.

Training

Certified Teleclass Leader, Corporate Coach University
Advanced Mediation Training, Queens University
Licensed practitioner: Myers Briggs Type Indicator
Firo-B
Strength Deployment Inventory
Misc. 360 degree feedback tools
Future Search Conferences

Other Activities

Roberta is the owner of AssessmentsNow.com, an online assessment provider, with an established network of 40 coaches and trainers worldwide who are trained in the ethical and appropriate use of assessments. She is the partner in charge of 1-Focus' Inner Spirit Leadership Program.